

Invitation for arts therapists who support parent-infant relationships to take part in PhD research study

Research aims to develop an evidence-based arts therapies intervention protocol to support parent-infant relationships

Call for research participants

To take part, you:

- will have worked professionally to support parent-infant relationships (conception to age 2);
- will have worked with parents and infants together;
- will be available to attend an online interview via Microsoft Teams, for approximately 60 minutes, at a time convenient to yourself;
- will be available post interview for the researcher to seek clarification on outstanding points via email.

If you are interested in taking part or have any questions, email Georgina Roberts: georgina.roberts@edgehill.ac.uk
